MILLIONAIRE'S HANDOUT — Antioch's "Mystery Millionaire," turned out to be Laddie Korecek, who made the rounds in downtown Antioch during Dollar Days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, handing out Susan B. Anthony Dollars to random shoppers. Mathew Skinner, 2, receives the first dollar from Korecek, as he eats in McDonald's. Mathew is about to move from Antioch to Las Vegas, so maybe he can turn his handout into his own millionaire's fortune. Mayor, Trustees Salary raises pop up again

BY GLORIA DAVIS

Since the two ordinances that the Antioch Village Board has proposed concerning mayoral and trustee salary raises have drawn a lot of heated attention in the last few months, and since the talk of a full-time, part-time, $28,000-$11,000 mayor, seems to have become a major issue in this year's mayoral campaign, it looks as if the committee meeting of the village board slated for Monday, Feb. 23, might be the start of some more fireworks.

In December, the board dropped their proposal for a full time $28,000 mayor, heeding the dissent of a large amount of residents of the village.

At the Dec. 22 committee meeting, the board heard Trustee Don Amundsen propose an ordinance creating an $11,000 salary plus a $200 per month expense account for the mayor and a salary raise to $2,000 also proposed for the trustees.

The mayor's salary is presently set by ordinance to be, at the start of the next term, $4,000 annually, plus the same expense account.

At the next board meeting when everyone thought the board might possibly pass that ordinance, it was not even mentioned, but Trustee Edgar Simonsen made a motion, that was approved by the entire board, Amundsen being absent, to have the Village Attorney Andrew Lynch draw up an ordinance on the mayoral salary to include committee input.

Simonsen was asked at the time if this committee input would include recommendations from both the village board committee and the committee then in formation to consider the proposal of full time mayor versus a business administrator.

Simonsen said that input from both committees would be considered.

Lynch, when contacted after the meeting, said that he couldn't draw up an ordinance immediately because of the vagueness of the Tony won a free hamburger, fries and coke for everyone in his class.

Retail stores may have new license fees

by CRISTI KEMPF

Antioch retail food stores may have to pay an annual licensing fee if the Lake County Board passes an ordinance backed by the county health department.

A public hearing was to be held Tuesday Feb. 24 where the public could comment on the proposed ordinance.

The health department has been inspecting retail food stores at no charge under an agreement with the State of Illinois, said Helen Amendola, member of the Lake County Board of Health.

The proposed ordinance does not make any major changes as far as the routine inspections go, but under the proposed ordinance the health department would have the authority to charge fees and issue retail food store permits.

Amendola added that retail food stores are not restaurants, but are stores such as grocery stores, gas stations and drug stores that sell groceries and meat markets.

The annual licensing fees would be computed on a store's total square footage and the proposed fee schedule is: stores under 5,000 square feet, $30; stores from 5,000 to 7,500 square feet, $80; stores from 7,501 to 10,000 square feet, $125; stores from 10,001 to 15,000 square feet, $175 and stores over 15,000 square feet, $350.

Ballot mixup riles village candidates

BY GLORIA DAVIS

When the candidates for municipal offices in the village of Antioch found about the positioning of their names on the April 7 ballot, many of them were irate to say the least.

They claim they had been informed by both Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz and the Lake County Election Board that their names would be on the ballot in the order in which they filed their candidacy papers.

That is why Robert Wilton, Melody Fahrner, Claudette Skvarce, Bruce Jablonski and Ray Toft showed up at the village hall on the first day of filing, even before the clerk.

The incumbent board, running on the Citizen's Action Party slate, waited and all filed together at the last minute, claiming that they then thought their names would all be together at the bottom of the ballot.

But that is not how the ballot will read. It seems the members of CAP will be first on the ballot and the independents will follow.

According to Bruce Jablonski, the state statute says that the names of the members of an established political party shall be first on the ballot, followed by the names of a new political party.

The handbook distributed by the election board contains an additional paragraph, adding that the names of independent candidates will follow in the order of filing.

According to Jablonski, no one seems to know where that paragraph comes from, since it is not in the law.

CAP members are first on the ballot since they filed as a new party and no existing political party has filed.

Jablonski, who has sought legal counsel on the matter, says that he has decided not to pursue it because of the time element and the cost factor, but he stresses that it is the principle of the thing that upsets him.

"If the law stays the same, it means that no independent candidate will ever be able to have his name first on the ballot even in cases where that positioning could mean a lot of votes," he says.

"This could force an independent candidate to run on a party ticket and is a slam against the democratic process," he adds.

"It is a flaw in the bureaucracy that does not permit individuality to prevail," he says.

"If we had known this before we filed, things might have been different," Jablonski concludes.

Salary raises

information he had received and would have to wait until he received more information from the board.

Nothing more had been heard about this matter until last week.

Since then the committee to consider the mayor-business administrator situation has been formed. Besides the two trustees that Mayor Haley appointed to the committee, Edgar Simonsen and Bill Seemann, the members of the committee, chosen from recommendations by Seemann by the mayor are: Ed Thamerus, Terry Klazak, Marilyn Shineflug, Dee Gall, Roland Schleusener, Tom Pocrnich and Fred Garman.

Checking on the present status of the ordinance on the mayoral salary proposed by Simonsen, I was told by Attorney Lynch that the ordinance was all finished and on his desk but he had been given no salary figures yet.

Since there had been some dispute at last week's committee meeting, as to whether or not the board planned to have input from the committee formed for the mayoral-business administrator consideration in any salary ordinance under proposal, I checked with Mayor Haley who said that no input from that committee would be considered before the election.

Haley continued, "It has always been the intention of the board to raise the trustees and the mayor's salaries after discussion with the board and the people of the community."

He then continued to say that the discussion on this subject would be brought up at the committee meeting on Monday, Feb. 23.

"I would anticipate action will be taken before the election," he added.

But Edgar Simonsen, on being recontacted says, "We will take information from the nine people of that committee and from the board before we make our decision on the mayor's and the trustees' salaries."

When asked about the fact that the mayor and others had said that no input from the mayoral committee would be considered before the April election, Simonsen said, "No time element has been discussed at any village committee meetings."

Meanwhile back at the ranch, Melody Fahrner, candidate for trustee and one of the leaders of the opposition to the full time mayor, having turned in a petition containing the names of 300 Antioch residents asking that the board not consider changing the mayor's salary until after the committee had been formed and returned before the April election, says that Haley said that the only business of the committee was the full time mayor versus a business administrator and that was all they were going to do.

Fahrner says that if a salary raise is brought up at this Monday's meeting she will demand to know "why the board is doing this against the people's will."

Attendance at this meeting might not only prove exciting and interesting but most informative on both sides.

tinues saying that the "ramifications are overwhelming."

Fahrner, who is equally as angry as Jablonski says, "The excuse we were given was that there had been a modification or revision of the law and that's why the misinformation. There has been no modification or revision, the law was always the same but the county did it wrong as did the village four years ago."

She continues to say the mistake was discovered when John Anderson ran as an independent candidate in the Nov. 4 presidential election.

"When they were contacted the county should have known from this," she adds.

She goes on to say that many of the candidates had discussed running as a party and may have, if they had had the correct information about the ballot positioning.

The Time Machine

50 YEARS AGO: FEBRUARY 26, 1981

Seven heavily armed bandits who worked under the protection of a machine gun held up and robbed the Bank of Burlington of over $10,000 cash yesterday afternoon.

There is a new clue which may lead to more revelations in the Deep Lake murder mystery. It is believed that Mrs. Yvonne Richman Marco possesses knowledge or information relevant to the murder. Officials are acting upon a note written by Marco to his wife before he was killed last week, which said, "You know what happened to Lil." Lil may be the Deep Lake murder victim. Mrs. Marco refuses to talk.

L.G. Strang recently spent two days in Chicago, where he attended a conference. The conference is a co-operative movement within the funeral profession to improve still further the standards of service to the public.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Scott of Parkway Ave. escaped a shakedown attempt and caused the arrest of a motorist posing as a sheriff deputy. The Scotts were pulled over by a man identifying himself as a deputy sheriff who covered them with a pistol and ordered them to follow him to the sheriff's office or else get into his car so they could talk things over. Instead the Scotts dashed into a near-by tavern and called the sheriff. It was found he had been shaking down motorists in the area for some time. The procedure is to accept money for not pressing charges for an imagined law breaking. Believing him to be a deputy sheriff the victims pay a fee as a fine rather than travel to court. He never took anyone to court.

Two of the three robbers who held up the First National Bank of Antioch last year were sentenced to prison. Mrs. Lucy Conlisk who dressed as a man and drove the get away car was sentenced to two to five years, and Edward Hamersbach and James Daly were given similar terms, Daly's running two years longer.

Parody set to close

There are only two more chances to see "Bullshot Crummond," the delightful British detective comedy, at the PM&L Theater, 877 Main St. in Antioch.

The last two performances will take place this Friday and Saturday nights, Feb. 27 and 28. Curtain time will be 8:30 p.m. on both nights.

The show, a hilarious spoof of the redoubtable Bulldog Drummond, has been delighting Antioch audiences during the last two weekends.

If you have not seen the play yet, be sure to call 395-3055 to make your reservations to do so either this Friday or Saturday night.

Service at this PM&L reservations number has recently been improved, and your requests will be taken care of promptly.

Also remember to be at the PM&L box office no later than 8:15 p.m. on the night you are to see the show.

You will enjoy it greatly and will, no doubt, be as pleased to see the international villains bite the dust as the last two weekends' audiences have been.

Schools have dental program

by CAROLE RISKA

School District 34, which includes W.C. Petty, Antioch and Oakland Grade Schools, has a great program for the kids. They have a once a week fluoride rinse, and a dental hygienist will be coming in to show the kids how to brush properly.

S. Siminak, who is in charge of the program for the three schools is directing the program with the aid of volunteers.

The Lake County Dept. of Health is supplying the funds for the program. The cost per child is very minimal, $2.88 over a three year period.

A survey was conducted in the Round Lake area after they had participated for the necessary amount of time and there was a 29 percent reduction in decay.

The program is available for parochial schools upon request. Each child must have written permission from a parent or guardian. There is a chance that the sixth, seventh and eighth graders could possibly participate.

The Citizens Action Party CAP kicked off their election campaign with a coffee hors d'oeuvre party at Antioch Bowl's Tower Room.

The party was held from 2 to 5 p.m. on Feb. 15 with Mike Haly, Marilyn Stenberg, Barny Barnstable, Don Amundsen, Ron Cunningham and Mabel Lu Webster on hand to greet and chat with approx 350 workers and supporters of the Citizens Action Party.

The Lake County Board of Review that met on Feb. 5 to consider raising Antioch Townships multiplier decided against it, although lots of folks from Leisure Village showed up, not too many others did.

No question about it, its hard to take a day off from work. Meetings of public importance should be held at times when the public can attend," is something often heard around the Antioch area.

Without the proposed increase Antioch now has the lowest multiplier in Lake County.

All of the teen hangouts north of Wisconsin are very strict about checking IDs and closing times. They regularly advertise and quite prominently too, in the suburban areas south of us, including maps of their locations and how to get there.

Gary Allen of Antioch High forwarded copies of the Tom Tom the student newspaper, that highlight the various problems of drinking and showing that the kids are aware of these problems.

One of the articles was interesting as it reported the results of an unofficial survey of the students and how they could obtain, if they wanted to, the necessary identification to drink.

The survey showed that there were 13 different sources, mainly publications that are aimed at teen readers.

All the kids have to do is fill out the application and the fake ID is returned by mail. There is little risk involved with sending away for these IDs so the kids figure why not?

Are any of these fake IDs some of those that are so carefully checked by these hangouts?

The results of another survey were published in the Sun Times Sunday, and it indicated that almost 50 percent of the public believes that 50 cents out of every federal tax dollar is wasted, but on the local scene most people believed that only 23 cents out of every dollar could be trimmed.

It was hard to figure out if the survey was supposed to make local administrators feel better or worse.

Speaking of those federal tax dollars, the Sun Times had a graph with an editorial explanation showing that Illinois is the leader in sending tax dollars to Washington, but we receive less of those dollars back than any other state.

For every dollar Illinoisans send they get back only 71 cents in federal spending, compare that to Massachusetts. For every dollar their citizens send they get back $1.13 in federal dollars.

The contest was held Saturday at Warren Township High School.

Participating schools included: Crystal Lake Central, Crystal Lake South, Deerfield, Warren, Highland Park, Lake Forest Academy, Lake Forest, Libertyville, McHenry, North Chicago, Stevenson, Round Lake, and Woodstock.

Libertyville, Highland Park and Warren won most of the events and the honor of advancing to sectional competition.

Rosie Rampale performed in Prose Reading; Lorna Brooks, with her original script, "Let Life Live," in Oratory; Alex Apostol with a selection from "A Thurbur Carnival" in Humorous Interpretation; Jennifer Biel and Sue Butler with a scene from "The Importance of Being Earnest" in Humorous Duet Acting.

These contestants performed in two rounds, receiving some favorable comments on their critique forms, but not advancing to the final rounds.

Bill Grochowski, Janine Casey, Dawn Wucki, Bill Bischoff, Jodi Johnson, and Anne Humphreys were scheduled to perform in this contest, but illness and personal conflicts forced them to cancel their commitments only a few days prior to performance.

-H CONFAB

Illinois 4-H'ers have set the mood for their 1981 State Conference by selecting the theme "Moving On". The conference will be held on the University of Illinois campus in Urbana June 23-26.

Emmons wins 11th conference title

Emmons Grade School captured its eleventh consecutive conference championship by downing Newport School twice. The Raiders beat the Braves 41-37 on their home court to set up a championship playoff. Newport had earlier snapped the Raiders conference winning streak at 97, by beating Emmons 69-58 on the Braves' court. The Raiders then downed the Braves 37-32 on a neutral court to take home the crown.

In the game at Emmons, which set up the championship match, the Raiders exploded to come from 14 points down mid-way through the third quarter to win by four, 41-37.

Gary Gamber, Don Chisholm and Brad Poulter caught fire to lead Emmons offense in the second half. Gamber scored six of his nine points in the third quarter and Chisholm collected six of his seven points in the second half. "Buck" Poulter poured in ten of his game high 13 points during the Raiders hot stretch.

The defense turned this game around by shutting down Newport completely. From the half-way point of the third stanza to the final buzzer Newport could manage only four points.

At one stage Emmons ran off 14 straight points. Stan Kuligoski made seven steals once Emmons went into its 1-3-1 trap. The Raider defense was aided by good work on the boards by Gamber with 17 rebounds and Chisholm's nine boards.

In the championship game, Emmons slowed the tempo to the game from the opening tip. Coach Mike Mitchell explained, "In the two previous games Newport controlled the tempo, in this game, I wanted them to play our game." The plan worked and for the first time in three games with Newport the Raiders trailed by the slimmest margin 22-21 at half.

Gamber scored eight points in the first quarter to help Emmons end the opening quarter 10-10. The Raiders fell behind 22-21 at the intermission, largely on the play of Newport's Anthony Allen.

Chisholm's steady play was the key to Emmons' success. Chisholm grabbed 11 rebounds and scored 10 points. Kuligoski carried a hot hand for the Raiders as he poured in 10 points. Kuligoski's running mate at guard, Poulter, added seven points and served up six assists. The defensive play of Ken Klean and play-making of Scott Ranney helped to secure the victory.

The defense again rose to the occasion switching from a 2-1-2 zone to a sticky man-to-man, the Raiders outscored Newport by six in the second half to win 37-32, and again bring home the title.

Sheriff sets scholarships

Sheriff Thomas Brown of Lake County announced today the Illinois Sheriffs' Association has established a Scholarship Program for the academic year 1981-1982. The goal of the Association is to provide assistance to worthy students in furthering their education and training.

Twenty four scholarships in the amount of $500 each will be awarded statewide to students pursuing courses in vocational training or attending institutions of higher learning during the school year 1981-1982.

Sheriff Brown explained that applicants who are permanent residents of Lake County will be screened by a State Board of Citizens selected by him and two will be recommended to a statewide committee that will make the final selection of those to receive twenty-four awards.

The Sheriff's Scholarship Program is funded through the Associate Membership Program which was started by the Illinois Sheriff's Association in 1980.

There is no restriction on applicants by reason of race, creed, color, age, sex, national origin or the course of study to be pursued. The only limitation is that applicants be permanent residents of Illinois and the scholarship be utilized at an institution of learning within the State.

Sheriff Brown advised all interested students to consult the administrator of the school they are attending, or the Sheriff's Office, for information and applications.

Applicants should submit their completed application form to the Sheriff of their home County on or before the deadline of March 1, 1981. Award recipients will be announced by May 1.

COMPARE EAGLE

OUR TEST WORKS TO PROVE LOWER TAPE TOTALS!

THE BEST TEST!

Only one supermarket can give you the lowest food total. And there's only one way to find out which store that is. Compare. That's the best test. But don't just compare a few prices, compare totals on your weekly food needs. Here's how!

1. YOUR LIST:
Make out your family's regular weekly shopping list.

2. YOUR TEST:

Note the price for everything on the list at Eagle and any other store.

3. YOUR PROOF:

Add up the prices and compare your final totals.

We're confident your tape total from Eagle will be lower. Compare and discover savings!

LOWER, TOTAL FOR TOTAL!

When you compare, you may find an occasional "special" that's lower than a price at Eagle. But when you add it all up at the checkstand, you'll find that our storewide low prices reduce your family's total weekly food bill. That's because we keep our prices lower overall, throughout the store.

But don't take our word for it. Take the best test. Compare Eagle, total for total, with any other supermarket. You'll find that discount works at Eagle to give you more for your food dollar!

Women to interpret clouds

The Antioch Woman's Club met on Feb. 16 in the Community Room of the State Bank of Antioch. The club welcomed Andrea Good into the club as a new member.

The program was Decorating On Wheels by Elsyann Huston from the Decorating Den. Mrs. Huston explained how to coordinate colors in the home with carpeting, draperies and wallpaper.

She told that shades are very popular this year and very dressy. There are many ways one can help to preserve and help with the energy crises in ones own home.

The hostesses for the day were Mary Polley, Angela Maras, Virginia Murphy, Alice Golding, Phyllis McMillen, Ethel McLellen, Jean Rockow, Jan Ranney, LeVergne Newton and Esther Jacobsen.

The next meeting will be on March 2, at 1 p.m. in the Community Room of the State Bank of Antioch.

The program will be "Drama of the Clouds". Mrs. Grimmer will speak on cloud interpretation and weather predictions in a simple, understandable fashion.

There will be a slide presentation portraying the rare beauty and magnificence of the Clouds.

Hostage holiday discussed

At the Feb. 17 meeting of the Antioch Community Consolidated School District, the board appointed a committee to formalize their verbal agreement with the Teen Canteen.

They also approved the raising of the milk prices to seven cents, but have decided that a raise in the prices of the school lunches would be premature at this time and will hold to the 60 cent price.

A motion to lengthen the school day, as of the '81 fall semester was passed.

School will close at 2:40 p.m. instead of 2:15 p.m. next year, allowing additional time for separate reading developmental classes.

Following the recommendation of Superintendent Donald Skidmore, the board allowed the expenditure of $14,305 for the installation of steel framed electrically operated fire doors, thus correcting the faulty ones that the Upper Grade School now has.

After taking eight bids, Edward Stauber Wholesale Hardware was awarded the bid.

Other business transacted included a discussion on "holiday" that the schools were forced to declare in honor of the returning hostages.

According to Skidmore, "No one wants to take the responsibility for this declaration that gave birth to an albatross."

With no official word being received, the district is under the impression that this will be treated as an emergency day, thus has to be made up.

Skidmore goes on to say, "The whole thing is utter nonsense. I wish someone would put these things in their proper perspective."

When I think about it New insurance needed

BY GLORIA DAVIS

Insurance seems to be the only commodity we feel forced to buy and hope we never have to use.

I was writing out one of the many checks that I send out each month in payment for the various insurance premiums, that we really can't afford but can't afford to be without, when it dawned on me that my husband and I will probably pay in excess of $100,000 in insurance premiums in our lifetime, and, if things continue normally, will collect less than half of this in claims.

Of course there are exceptions to this rule but it's no wonder that insurance companies can afford to build imposing buildings like the Hancock and Prudential Bldgs. in Chicago and the impressive Sentry Bldg. in Stevens Point, Wis.

I'm talking about the things deemed necessarily insured: life, health, car, mortgage, house, personal property etc.

It also came to my attention that the insurance business seems to be primarily a "man's world."

That's a minute man representing Sentry, and those hands that beg you to put yourself into them are also obviously masculine appendages.

And when you look at the pictures in the ads of "your friendly neighborhood insurance man," most of them are just that.

Maybe that's why the things that almost everyone insures are those practical things that men are usually responsible for.

Why is it that we can only buy insurance on things that usually prove to be a once, or hopefully a never, in a lifetime catastrophe?

Why about the day to day traumas that the feminine gender constantly face and should at least have a little monetary compensation for.

I think that most women I know would gladly pay premiums to be insured against the really important things in life that happen daily and so therefore should prove more remunerative.

Tell me gals, wouldn't you feel more secure if you had insurance against appearing at the biggest social function of the year in the exact same dress as your most hated enemy. I bet all of us could collect on that one more than once.

Or how about being insured against burning your favorite receipt the night that your husband is bringing his boss home to dinner. You know, the one you could normally turn out perfectly in you sleep.

Or how about being insured against certain relatives, a blanket policy covering all "related circumstances."

What mother wouldn't like insurance, that if she did things exactly by the "child care" books guaranteeing that all her kids would grow up to be healthy, well formed individuals. Could we collect on the one or couldn't we.

How often have you heard, "But according to Dr. Spock it should have turned out this way."

How many women who have worked to keep their figures, catered to their husbands and still had them play games with the young secretaries in the office, wouldn't like to make a fat insurance claim against infidelity.

A property settlement and a divorce shouldn't be the only way we get paid for those little games. Sometimes you still love the guy, besides they do come in handy now and then.

On the other hand, maybe it's not money that I really think we have coming to us in any of these and a million other situations.

Perhaps I wish policies on these things were available since usually the things that we are insured against never happen and that alone is worth a healthy premium anytime.

Sequoits champs; ride 12 game winning streak

The Antioch Sequoit varsity basketball team clinched the NWSC title outright last weekend with convincing victories over Grant and Lake Zurich.

Friday night's swamping of Lake Zurich was all that was needed for the title, as the Sequoits won 69-36 in what Coach Roger Andrews called "an exceptionally good team effort."

John Ploss (20), and Dee Maras (19) led the offensive attack and Tim Koesser added 12 more in the victory.

Saturday's game found the Sequoits in command the entire game in what was expected to be a typical Antioch-Grant shootout. Grant held Ploss to only eight points, but Maras had a hot night with 25 and Pete Weber added 10 and Koesser 10 in the victory.

This Friday's final conference game will find the Sequoits hosting Stevenson in their quest for an undefeated conference record.

The game, billed as Senior's Night, will be the final home game for nine seniors—Ploss, Koesser, Weber, Maras, Gary Volling, Guy Abdérholden, Marshall Olson and Kevin Hassett, and Dean Haviland.

ACHS students win awards in Scholastic Art Exhibition

Antioch Community High School is proud to announce two certificate of merit winners in the Scholastic Art Award Exhibition. Jan Okrzesik is so recognized for a sculpture, "Self Service," as is Peter Clevon for a pencil drawing, "Castle on High."

This is the 54th year of the National Scholastic Art Awards program for the encouragement of student achievement in creative art.

Conducted by Scholastic Inc., with the cooperation of public spirited sponsors, it has become an institution in the high school world.

Varied classifications cover the fields of painting, drawing, printmaking design, three-dimensional art and photography.

Regional exhibitions give students the opportunity for local recognition. National honors are gold medals, scholarships, cash awards and the honor of display at the National High School Art Exhibition.

The North Suburban Chicago Regional exhibit is presently being held at Hawthorn Center Mall, Vernon Hills from February 21 to February 26.

The public is urged to see this large collection of high school art students work.

Antioch, Warren compete in math invitational

On Feb. 26, nine area high schools will compete in the Second Annual Antioch/Warren Invitational Math Competition.

The event will be held at Warren High School in the evening. Elmer Stone, math department chairman at Warren High School and Jay Bratton of Antioch Community High School are the co-chairmen.

Also on the steering committee were Gene Lischewski of Antioch and Chuck Hamberg of Stevenson.

There will be four written tests: algebra I, geometry, algebra II and advanced topics.

Each test consists of 20 different problems and the students have 50 minutes for the test.

No calculators or tables are permitted and no partial credit will be given. The school's score was the sum of its two highest individuals in each subject area.

There were also two relay events. In the relay four students sit in a row, one behind the other.

The first student works his/her problem and passes only the answer and the next student uses this answer in his problem.

Each of the four team members have different problems to work. It is an exciting and enjoyable type of competition.

It can also be frustrating because if one student makes a mistake on his/her problem all the answers of the students behind him/her will also be wrong since one must use the answer of the person ahead to do his/her problems.

The students seemed to greatly enjoy this type of competition and the challenge. It is beneficial to give recognition to the students who excel in academics as well as those who achieve in other areas.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Two of our Antioch girls have pledged a sorority at Augustana College.

Barbara Bailey and Jennifer Garland will be sorority sisters of Chi Omega Gamma.

Get well wishes to Jim Mc Millen.

Annie Mae's been around Antioch so long that she even remembers when there was an ordinance on the books stipulating that every village resident was to donate one day's work a year to the village.

I wonder if that ordinance still exists. That would really be a village working together.

Congratulations to Pat Houghton who finished '80 with a bang by getting his degree in chemical engineering from Northern Illinois University.

Speaking of outstanding students, Paul Ward received distinguished-student rank for the fall semester at Purdue University.

Even though most of us have been languishing in some early spring weather, Dick Kirkpatrick and his boys had a few chilly days last week trying to warm up their cabin up north.

Our own Miss Antioch, Dawn Flashner, has been awarded a half-tuition scholarship to Drake University through Drake's Alumni Scholar Program.

Look out all Drake males, this Antioch lovely is coming up there to study business and computer management.

Congrats on a job well done to Frank Moser, who is retiring from Commonwealth Edison's Waukegan Generating Station after a 29 year career.

Antioch has another smartee in Mr. and Mrs. Roland Schleusener little girl Theresa, who's been named to the Dean's list at Cardinal Stritch College.

Set World Prayer Day

Bank promotes Wermeling

KENNETH WERMELING

William E. Brook, president of the State Bank of Antioch, has announced on behalf of the board of directors, the promotion of Kenneth Wermeling to installment loan officer.

Mr. Wermeling joined the State Bank staff in 1978 as a member of the collection department, and a few months later became collection manager.

Wermeling is a graduate of Mary D. Bradford High School, Kenosha, and attended Gateway Technical Institute and the University of Wisconsin at Parkside. He has also attended the American Institute of Banking for bank related courses.

Prior to coming to the State Bank, Ken was employed by Associates Financial Services for three years and served as branch manager for Local Loan Co. for two years.

Ken presently resides in Kenosha with his wife, Sally, and their two children, Laurie and Tim. He is a member of the Antioch Jaycees, and in his off hours is active in racquetball, softball, golf, hunting, fishing and bowling.

Rotary, Chamber invite candidates to speak

WILLIAM M. BARR

Wm. M. Barr, of the Barr Funeral Home in Antioch, general membership chairman of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, has extended an invitation to the mayoral candidates Philip Burke, Henry Gillmann, Raymond Toft, Bruce Jablonski, Robert Wilton and Mayor Michael Haley to speak at a combined meeting of the Antioch Rotary Club and the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

The luncheon meeting will commence at noon, Thursday, March 19; at the Harbor Ridge Country Club, Antioch.

There will be a $5 per person charge for all members of both groups, their best ladies, employees and guests.

The luncheon tickets are on a first-come basis, attendance is limited to 200 people.

Reservations and money must be in the Chamber Office, 880 Main St. or the chairman, 532 Lake St., by Tuesday, March 10.

The luncheon reservation commitment must be submitted and with only 200 reservations available, do not deprive yourself of becoming acquainted and to know the views of the men that will lead our Antioch community for the next four years.

Wm. Barr, with the committee comprised of Rotary and Chamber members, is compiling an agenda and a list of topics that the candidates will be asked to comment on in their presentation to the joint meeting.

1st National announces two major changes

Peter J. Cleven, president of the First National Bank of Antioch, stated after a study of the community's banking needs, that there will be two major changes regarding customer service at the bank effective April 1.

The bank is offering expanded banking hours by opening the lobby on Wednesdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., and offering drive-up/walk-up service 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Wednesdays.

With the introduction of a six day banking week, the First National will no longer offer banking services at the Orchard Plaza facility after March 31.

It was also indicated that the bank is planning to construct and open a new and larger facility in the future that will be located further from the main bank than the Orchard Plaza facility has been.

Cleven further stated that, with the new banking hours, customers will now have access to full banking services six days a week.

SHIPPING COSTS

The shipping cost from Lake County will be lowered substantially since Lake County has officially been made part of the Chicago Commercial Zone.

Some say it's bad luck to burn sassafras wood.

College night slated

The College of Lake County and participating area high schools invite interested students and their parents to attend a College Night on Monday, March 2, from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The program will be held at the College of Lake County, 19351 West Washington Street in Grayslake.

Admission representatives from numerous two and four-year colleges, universities, and trade schools will be present to answer questions concerning their programs of study, admission requirements, housing, financial aid, and other topics of interest.

120 representatives attended. A list of this year's participants will be completed by mid-February.

Booths will be located in the main lobby, Blue and Orange Courts, library atrium, and in some classrooms. Area high school counselors will be available to answer questions and provide other necessary assistance.

Parents and students are encouraged to discuss issues and prepare questions relating to post-high school education prior to College Night.

Possible topics for discussion are size, cost, location, admission requirements, majors available, and future career goals.

It will be helpful if students know their class rank and any scores on major achievement tests such as PSAT, ACT, or SAT that they may have completed.

Inquires should be directed to area high school counselors.
